Welcome

Kenwood Academy is a special learning community for neurodiverse young people in South Yorkshire.

Our Unique Sixth Form Offer

- A key focus on a young person's next destination, and how to get there - at the age of 19 or sooner.
- Structured independence.
- A greater focus on the non-academic parts of a young person's EHCP and their progress and development.
- A combination of what you might find in other schools, colleges, preparation for workplaces and preparation for higher education.
- An extension of Key Stage 4 (Year 11) at Kenwood Academy.

Aims

- Core Aim 1: To prepare for employment
- Core Aim 2: To maximise Level 2 (e.g. GCSE Grades 9-4) achievement and to stretch students and prepare them for future education and/or employment.
- Core Aim 3: To maximise Level 3 (e.g. A-Level) and Level 2 achievement and to stretch students and prepare them for future (and higher) education and/or employment.

Our Campuses

Our Learning Environment

- Calm and well-ordered learning spaces
- Personalised communication support
- We share the 'bigger picture' with young people
- We plan for change with young people
- We equip young people with the tools to organise their time and make the most effective use of their time

Our Curriculum

Kenwood Academy's curriculum is personalised, holistic, and innovative, aimed at empowering every young person with the knowledge, confidence, resilience, and lifelong learning habits needed for future success and happiness. It nurtures social, emotional, mental, and physical health, preparing young people exceptionally well for adulthood with the skills, behaviours, and cultural capital to realise their dreams and ambitions. Aligned with the national curriculum, it is broad, balanced, and inclusive, offering equal opportunities and focuses on individualised next steps through enhanced provision. The curriculum draws from high-quality texts, media, and real-world experiences to inspire learning, emphasises reading fluency and comprehension, and employs a generative and spiral approach to build on the strengths of what young people know and can do. Fostering metacognition, self-regulation and independence, the curriculum enables young people to connect their learning to the real world and to unlock their potential.

Underpinned by the outcomes in EHCPS, we will help young people to realise future success and happiness in their:

Identity and Independence; Health; Communities and Friendships; Education and Employment.
